

New range of chocolates from Butlers Chocolates and Orla Kiely

Butlers Chocolates, Dublin's most celebrated chocolate house, are delighted to announce a collaboration with well known Irish fashion designer Orla Kiely. This alliance has resulted in a range of unique and original keep sake boxes in the distinctive style of Orla Kiely with a delicious selection of premium chocolates from Butlers.

Orla's individual tulip design, in a variety of warm chocolate hues, forms the lid of the box. The base has been designed in pale Chartreuse with a rowan tree pattern in lime.

There are 3 boxes in the range, each containing a delicious assortment of contemporary and mouth-watering chocolates, including dark chocolate with sea salt and milk chocolate with nutmeg.

This collection was launched exclusively in Selfridges before Christmas, much to the delight of foodies and fashionistas in London. The range will be launched in Ireland this month in Butlers Chocolate Cafés and selected retail outlets.
